

If you knew that the farm near the coast of your state was the first of many offshore wind farms, would you be more or less likely to support the wind farm?

